Kris Kennedy Joins Dietz & Company Architects, Inc.

Springfield, Mass. – Dietz & Company Architects is pleased to announce the full time addition of Kris Kennedy as an architectural associate. Kris came to Dietz as an intern in the Spring of 2010 and has since earned his Master of Architecture degree from University of Massachusetts Amherst. Kris was one of 3 graduates honored by the faculty to the Tau Sigma Delta National Honors Society, which is the only national honor society in architecture. He also acquired his certification as LEED AP BD+C.

Kris was involved as a session Chair at the NESEA Conference BE11 this past Spring. He is most interested in sustainability and community engagement through design. His goal is to give new life to existing structures through either creative renovation or historic preservation.

Dietz & Company Architects, Inc., one of the largest full-service firms in western Massachusetts, is a woman-owned business that opened its doors in 1985. The firm's areas of practice include housing, educational institutions, historic renovations, commercial projects and healthcare facilities.
